The party was the BEST ever! I swear...you just SHOW UP....they will do EVERYTHING! You don't even have to bring a towel!

We invited about 20 kids....and I got 2 lifeguards...just to be safe...EVERYTHING (including invitations, pictures....)$300...walk in---walk out----no cleaning----it is the way to go!

I CC'd the person in charge....she may email you back!

LOOOOOOVE YA!

Subject: Help!

Hey. We just moved into a new house and are still in the process of renovating. The yard looks like a bad trailer park rendition. Kendall's birthday is in 2 weeks!! Do you know of anywhere in town that hosts parties? We are having a girl come dressed as Belle and I don't really want to do a public forum with every stranger in town knocking Kendall out of the way. (Selfish, I know...)

Did Joanie tell me that you guys did a tiny bubbles party? How was that? How much do they charge? K & Lyn have offered their house, but we don't want to do that to them! It is going to be really small this year, so the venue doesn't have to fit a lot of people. I just want something I can decorate and have Belle bring her a gift and play with the kids at the party. I haven't even sent out invites yet which is SO unlike me. I am always over prepared but we are so swamped with the new house!!! HELP.....
